

GANDHI ARRESTED IN INDIA AGAIN FOR 'NON-VIOLENT' WAR ON GREAT BRITAIN

Key Refuses To Let Council Obstruct Recall Move

PETITION MEASURE DROPPED TO GIVE FOES 'FAIR FIGHT'

Barnwell, After Conference With Mayor, Decides To Withdraw Paper, Which Would Have Hampered Recall Work.

KEY TO REORGANIZE CITY GOVERNMENT

Committees Will Be Named Tonight; 'Economy' To Be Watchword of Annual Message.

On the eve of reorganization of city council tonight, with economy as the keynote, Mayor James L. Key Sunday moved to remove any obstruction from the path of John A. Manget and the Atlanta Federation of Trades, seeking his recall.

Councilman Claude L. Barnwell, of the sixth ward, author of a measure to force all signers of recall petitions to visit the office of the city clerk at the city hall in order to file a test of authenticity on all signers, announced after a conference with Key that he would withdraw an ordinance presented at the last session of council.

The Barnwell measure would have nullified the petition which is now in circulation and would have forced those wishing to join the ouster move against Key to visit the city hall to affix their signatures to a new petition.

"The mayor has asked me to withdraw that ordinance until the recall threat against him has passed over or is successful," Barnwell said in announcing his intention to accede to Key's wish. "While I feel that the ordinance should be applicable to recalls just as it now is to initiatives, I have agreed with the mayor to postpone any action on my ordinance pending outcome of the recall move.

Fears To Embarrass Friends.
"It is the only way that the city can check signatures and be sure that those whose names appear as a petition for a recall election are genuine, in favor of it. Mr. Key, however, takes the position that it might embarrass his friends to permit the measure to go to council at this time, and wishing to avoid that and to give his enemies a fair fight, he has sought withdrawal of the paper.

"I have communicated with Councilman James L. Wells, of the eighth ward, who presented the ordinance for me at a special called session of council. I was ill at the time and could not be present. Mr. Wells agrees to insist on passage at Monday's council meeting. There were enough pledged votes to insure passage of the ordinance and enough to pass it even over the mayor's veto if he had not wanted to approve it, but in deference to Mayor Key's wishes not to obstruct the path of recallers, we have agreed to forego forcing a vote on it."

The paper was to have come before the last session of the 1931 council at 2 o'clock this afternoon, at which time the bridge committee is slated to submit a recommendation regarding

Gandhi Sends Watches To British Detectives

BOMBAY, Jan. 4.—(Monday.)—Mahatma Gandhi's last act before he was arrested was to send to two Scotland Yard detectives who protected him in London gold British watches, bought in spite of the boycott on British products.

The watches were inscribed "With Love From M. K. Gandhi" to the men he recently described in young India as his "trusted guides and friends who looked after my comforts with the punctilious care of loving nurses."

The gifts were purchased in Bombay by Gandhi's secretary one hour after the national congress levied the embargo on British goods.

HIGHER RAIL RATES BECOME EFFECTIVE OVERNATION TODAY

Over $100,000,000 Expected To Be Raised for Faltering Systems Through General Increase.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP)—The great railroad systems of the United States tomorrow will begin charging increased freight rates to aid those carriers in financial difficulties.

With several well-known lines already in bankruptcy and others faced by inability to pay interest on bonds, the interstate commerce commission last week authorized the carriers to make emergency surcharges on freight bills, effective January 4. These were approved several weeks ago.

The increases range from 6 cents per ton on certain types of freight to carloads to 2 cents per 100 pounds on other classes in less than carload shipments. They are expected by the commission to realize over $100,000,000 for the roads.

The effectiveness of the rates ends seven months of effort by the railroads acting co-operatively to get freight rates increased. Hearings were held in every section of the country on an appeal for a blanket 15 per cent increase. The interstate commerce commission turned down the 15 per cent plea but authorized the surcharges. The roads were permitted to work out their own scheme whereby the railroad credit corporation will collect the money from eligible carriers and loan it to needy ones.

Roads such as the Walcott railway, the Seaboard Air Line, the Florida East Coast, the Ann Arbor railroad and others in bankruptcy or which have defaulted on their bond interest are eligible for loans. They are permitted to increase rates, however, and keep the proceeds.

The plan is effective for the period of the emergency and not longer than 180 days. The railroads and the interstate commerce commission hope the result will prevent any more bankruptcies and tide the carriers over to better times.

The American Railway Association today issued a statement of prospective carloadings for the next three months. Taking figures they say have been submitted by shippers to the estimated approximate carloadings at 5,241,740 cars, a reduction of 6.6 per cent from the first quarter of 1931.

All sections except the southwest reported a decrease of four to ten per cent. The southwest reported an increase of four to ten per cent.

Brother Plans Fight On Burns' Extradition

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP)—The Rev. Vincent Burns said from his Palisades (N. Y.) home tonight that he expected to file protests with the governors of "several northern states" against any attempt to extradite his brother, Robert Elliott Burns, former Chicago editor, who twice escaped from a Georgia chain gang.

"I prefer not to say in what states this action will be taken," he said, "but the papers are being drawn now."

"The minister refused to discuss the purpose of his action. Despite a widespread search Burns has not been seen to the gang. There have been unconfirmed reports that he had been seen in New York."

Kidnaper's Unrequited Love Leads To Break-Up of Extortionist Gang

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—(AP)—The unrequited love of a confessed kidnaper for a woman victim led to the breaking up of what authorities called "one of the most vicious extortion gangs in history."

The woman is Mrs. Max Gebel, blond and pretty, whose husband, a physician, said he paid $2,000 ransom for her. There have been reports that she was held hostage in the bungalow for several days after her husband had been released last December 12 to obtain the ransom.

ONE OF BROTHERS HELD IN MURDER OF SIX OFFICERS

Members of Suspected Killers' Family Also Arrested as Search Widens for Two Others.

BY CHARLES A. GRUMICH.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 3.—(AP)—While the Ozark hills' greatest manhunt was prosecuted by posse, airplanes and bloodhounds, in quest of the slayers of six peace officers, police and vigilantes tonight had rounded up six members of the suspected wholesale killers' family.

The objects of the widespread search were Harry Young, 27, and his brother, Jennings Young, 29. They had eluded posess in the usually peaceful suburban farm area four miles southwest of here, where they were seen fleeing today.

Officers and civilians combed the countryside in vain. With nightfall they withdrew from the section with in five miles of the farmyard the two brothers turned into a shambles yesterday, resisting arrest of Harry Young on a murder charge.

Oscar Young, another brother, was arrested with his wife today and admitted being at his mother's farmhouse prior to the shooting yesterday. He denied he was present during the firing. Because of his previous good record, authorities were inclined to believe his story.

Search for Harry and Jennings Young was intensified when the pair appeared at the home of E. T. Page, Springfield, Mo., and demanded breakfast for three from Page's wife, who was at home alone.

Hundreds of persons, many of them women carrying infants, followed the posse's movements closely. They advanced over the scoured territory behind the posse, unheeding danger.

ATHENS AVIATOR KILLED IN TAILSPIN

Armel Dies Instantly in 1,000-Foot Fall; Passenger Survives.

ATHENS, Ga., Jan. 3.—M. C. Armel, conductor of a flying school here, was killed and Clifford Swindle, a student pilot, was injured slightly when their plane went into a spin and crashed from 1,000 feet about a mile from Athens airport at 5 p. m. today.

After the crash, Swindle, who was an advanced student, said Armel had purposely put the plane into a tailspin to show him how to get out of a spin.

Swindle said when he realized the ship would not come out of the spin he braced himself for the shock. He was injured slightly about the face, hands and chest.

Ben T. Epps and A. W. Hartley, both fliers who were accompanying Armel and Swindle in another plane, witnessed the crash and circled over the wreckage, guiding rescuers to the spot. They later returned to the airport.

Armel is survived by his widow, Mrs. Bessie Myers Armel, and two boys, Charlie Armel and George Armel, of Huntington, W. Va. Funeral services have not been arranged.

LOUISIANA FAMILIES PLAN TO LEAVE HOMES

MONROE, La., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Dozens of families in the northwestern part of West Monroe today were preparing to abandon their homes to escape backwaters from the Ouachita river, which has continued a steady rise for more than two weeks.

At least 100 houses were isolated by water, but the occupants of most of them, hopeful that the river has about reached a turning point, have refused to move to higher ground.

CONGRESS ASKED TO PROBE
LEVEE CAMP CONDITIONS

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Criticism of Major General Lytle Brown, head of Mississippi river flood control work, with "prejudice," the executive committee of the Mississippi Federation of Labor tonight requested that congress conduct an investigation of the Mississippi Federation of Labor charges of near-peonage and abuses in Mississippi river levee camps.

Economics To Occupy Reconvened Congress

Lawmakers Will Reassemble Today To Deal With $500,000,000 Reconstruction Corporation Proposal.

BY CECIL B. DICKSON.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Refreshed by a Christmas respite, congress reconvenes tomorrow to consider the most vital economic legislative problems ever to confront the country when not at war.

Both the republican senate and the democratic house have plans to expedite the most important rehabilitation proposals.

President Hoover's $500,000,000 reconstruction finance corporation bill, the legislative right of way in the senate. The democratic house will have before it the majority party's tariff measure.

Work on the big tax increase program will get started before the ways and means committee.

Senator Watson, republican leader, promised today the reconstruction finance corporation bill and the federal land bank measure increasing the capitalization of the system by $125,000,000 would be brought up for action as rapidly as possible. He regards them "most important."

Until these measures, recommended to congress by the president as important steps towards economic rehabilitation, are reported by the senate banking committee, the senate may consider the Capper-Wheeler bill to authorize the farm board to turn over 40,000,000 bushels of wheat to feed the hungry.

The senate also faces again its row over the re-election of Senator Moses of New Hampshire as president pro tempore of the senate. Hearings now will be resumed.

DYKES WITHSTAND FLOOD POUNDING

Rivers Continue Slight Rise But Convicts Plug Mississippi Levees.

CLARKSDALE, Miss., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Along Coldwater and Tallahatchie rivers continued to pour a large volume of water into the Tallahatchie valley tonight, levee protection for the flood situation and tremendous pounding of the flood.

Tallahatchie valley residents breathed easier today, when Glendora, Jones, Frederick, Swan Lake, Twilight, river towns and plantations from Batesville in Panola county on the north through Quitman and Tallahatchie counties as far south as Phillip in Leflore county, where the levee broke.

B. E. Offenheiser, of Clarksdale, chief engineer of the Yazoo-Mississippi levee board and official observer for the flood situation said, however, that the crest of the flood would not be reached in the Glendora area until tomorrow.

The levee board chief engineer said the situation would remain critical throughout the week.

Water continued to rise at about an inch every 24 hours beginning at noon today at Glendora, Swan Lake, Sumner and Webb.

Convicts in large numbers continued to work on the flood situation and the levee board said that it is three or four miles wide in places.

Bolls developed along the Glendora levee line, but workers kept down danger spots with sandbags and pumps. The pressure against Tallahatchie river levees at Asa and Stone is particularly menacing and growing in strength. Wilmer Kennedy, Batesville publisher, reported. Weak spots have also developed northeast of Mims, Curtis Station and Carriere. Kennedy said he believed there would be additional breaks in that territory.

Attempt to dynamite Pattison Bayou levee in the last three days was attributed to dwellers of that region, now threatened by high water, who wish to divert floods into other streams.

Guards are patrolling levees with instructions to shoot suspicious characters seen around dykes.

CHILD DIES OF BURNS Received Christmas

Burns received Christmas Eve from scolding water and live canisters brought death Sunday morning to David L. Wood Jr., one-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Wood, of 902 Tenth avenue. The little boy was burned when he turned on the hot water tap in the tub in which his nurse was bathing him, it was said. He was hospitalized to a private hospital.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the chapel of Awtry & Lowndes. Dr. Louis D. Newton, pastor of the Druid Hills Baptist church, will officiate, and interment will be in West View cemetery.

The child is survived by his father, who is a well-known Atlanta dentist; his mother, two sisters, Betty Wood and Barbara Wood, and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Glor, all of Atlanta.

VINSON TO OFFER "BIG NAVY" BILL IN HOUSE TODAY

Georgian Will Ask $616,250,000 for 120 New Vessels To Replace Antiquated Equipment.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Talk of arms limitation merged today with the announcement that a navy program for $700,000,000 worth of new warships has been completed.

Chairman Vinson, of the house naval committee, said he would introduce tomorrow a bill for 120 new vessels costing $616,250,000. All of these but two aircraft carriers, he emphasized, will replace over-age and obsolescent ships.

Meanwhile, officials considered subjects likely to come before the American delegates in their preliminary talk Tuesday on the February Geneva conference.

Vinson's 10-year program, drawn with the assistance and approval of the navy general board, also calls for the completion of 16 ships now under construction at a cost of $81,500,000. These include seven 8-inch gun, 10,000-ton cruisers, a controversial type much discussed at past disarmament meetings and due to figure in the new negotiations. Foreign nations have been asked to consider smaller type cruisers.

At the same time it was emphasized that the navy has been completely modified its plans for the 8-inch gun ships now on the ways. Anti-aircraft tanks are being added, additional armor is being placed and the anti-aircraft gun is being changed and given more protection. Most of these changes were decided upon several months ago after tests of the recently launched Pensacola were completed.

Disarmament discussion centered about the scheduled arrival in New York tomorrow of Ambassador Charles C. Daves, one of the United States delegates who will come to Washington Tuesday. Here he will meet Senator Swanson, democrat, Virginia; Mary Emma Woolley, of Mount Holyoke College; Norman Davis, of New York, and state and navy department officials to decide what policies will be pursued at Geneva.

The two other American delegates named so far—Minister Hugh R. Wilson, alternate, and Ambassador Hugh S. Gibson, will join the other delegates in Switzerland. Both have been

MAID KILLS BABIES AND ENDS OWN LIFE

Nurse Quoted as Saying Home Was Formerly in Georgia.

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—(AP)—The bodies of Mary Roth, 23, a maid in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Heindel, of suburban River Forest, and two young children, were found today by police hanging from the ceiling of a rooming house.

Police theorized the maid in a fit of insanity killed the children and ended her own life.

Mr. and Mrs. Heindel returned from a neighborhood bridge party shortly after midnight and found all entrances to their home barred. Heindel called police, who broke down a door and discovered the bodies.

The bodies of the children, John D. 4, and George, 9 months, were in the nursery, the infant suspended from the crib and that of the older boy from a partition separating the nursery from a sleeping porch. The body of Miss Roth was in a basement closet. Close by was a box, which she evidently had kicked from under her.

Mrs. Drexman said the girl never discussed her affairs and that she left the rooming house with two suitcases and a hatbox. She arrived at the Heindel home with only the hatbox.

Members of the Heindel family said they recalled that Miss Roth mentioned that her former home was in Georgia. She never revealed, they said, the name of the town in Georgia whence she came.

First Eyewitness Story Describes Massacre of Six Peace Officers

BY FRANK PIKE.

Springfield City Detective.
As Told to the Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Sheriff Marcell Hendri and two deputies came to the police station yesterday afternoon and told us he suspected Harry Young, fugitive murderer, was in his mother's farmhouse about seven miles west of Springfield. The sheriff asked for several police officers and detectives to go with him to the place.

In his car he took Deputy Oliver, detective chief, Sid Meadows, Charles Houser, Ollie Crosswhite, Virgil Johnson and Ben Blyden, detectives.

Floridan Travels Alone To Begin Prison Term

RAIFORD, Fla., Jan. 3.—(AP)—J. A. Gaff, 50, of Blountstown, Fla., walked into the Florida state prison today unaccompanied.

"Here are the papers," he said to assistant Superintendent L. F. Chapman, handing the official commitment papers calling for a 10-year sentence.

Gaff was locked up. Chapman said the sentence was for manslaughter but he did not know the name of Gaff's victim.

Gaff brought letters of recommendation from several other officials at Blountstown. He traveled from there alone.

U. S. VICE CONSUL VICTIM OF ATTACK BY JAP SOLDIERS

Culver Chamberlain Set Upon and Badly Beaten in Street at Mukden; Protest Made.

By the Associated Press.

Culver B. Chamberlain, United States consul in Manchuria, was beaten by three Japanese soldiers at Mukden yesterday.

State department officials at Washington said they had no report of the attack last night, but a protest was lodged by Consul General Myri S. Myers with the Japanese consul at Mukden. Myers described the assault as "entirely unprovoked."

Consul Chamberlain was attacked as he stepped from an automobile displaying the American flag and coat of arms. He was on his way to catch a train for Harbin when he was hit by the Japanese soldiers.

Harbin said 12 "white Russians" were reported killed in street fighting there after a Russian boy had been beaten to death by a Chinese shopkeeper for stealing a cake.

Occupation of Chinchow, last Chinese stronghold in Manchuria, was completed by Japanese troops when they entered the city with a full division of the mikado's warriors.

Withdrawal of Chinese troops behind China's great wall apparently had been completed, Japanese fliers reported.

Japanese airplanes continued a machine-gun and bomb attack on Chinese irregulars.

The Canton government in China was dissolved under its peace agreement with rival Nanking government.

CHAMBERLAIN ATTACKED ON STREET IN MUKDEN

MUKDEN, Manchuria, Jan. 3.—American Vice Consul Culver B. Chamberlain, stepping from an automobile displaying the American flag and coat of arms, was assaulted and beaten painfully by three Japanese soldiers today on one of the main streets of Mukden.

American Consul General Myri S. Myers accompanied Mr. Chamberlain to the Japanese consulate where he lodged a vigorous verbal protest with Consul S. Morishima against what he described as an "entirely unprovoked assault."

Consul Morishima promised a thorough investigation of the incident, and it was insisted immediately.

Mr. Chamberlain, formerly of Kansas City, Mo., and a member of the consular service for 10 years, arrived in Mukden yesterday.

Plea of Manchester Before Board Today

Another effort of Earl Manchester, Birmingham (Mich.) youth under sentence to the electric chair for the slaying of James Parks, Macon printer, to escape the extreme penalty is scheduled to come before the state prison commission here today.

Manchester's 30-day respite, granted by Governor Russell last month at the personal request of Vivian Stanley, a member of the prison commission, expired Sunday, but he must be resented and it is within the province of the commission to intervene at any time.

The case of Mrs. Sarah Powers, aged Macon boarding house mistress, under sentence of life in prison, in the alleged conspiracy to collect insurance on the death of Parks, is now pending in the supreme court.

GANDHI IS WARNED AGAINST VIOLENCE

Ordinance Declaring National Congress Illegal Organization To Be Promulgated Today.

BY JAMES A. MILLS.
(Copyright, 1932, by The Associated Press.)
BOMBAY, Jan. 4.—(Monday)—Mahatma Gandhi was arrested early today for the second time within a year and a half, and nationalist India once more girded itself for "non-violent" war on Great Britain.

President Vallabhai Patel of the Indian nationalist congress, also was taken into custody. Both were arrested under a Bombay regulation of 1927. The warrant stated they were being removed to Yeravda jail at Poona for "good and sufficient reasons."

Viceroy Lord Willingdon's drastic move was made after eleven-hour attempts of moderate nationalist leaders to bring about a compromise had failed. Gandhi postponed a scheduled trip to his shrine at Ahmedabad in the hope that he could come to an agreement with the viceroy over the new ordinances against agitation and save the nation from a revival of last year's civil disobedience campaign.

Gandhi was arrested as he was sleeping peacefully on the stone floor of his tattered tent atop one of Bombay's tenements. He received the warrant from the head of the Bombay police and smilingly handed it to his son, Davidas, without comment, this being his day of silence.

Forty minutes later, Little Lala, rebel was whisked through Bombay's darkened streets toward Poona, where he will be lodged in the same prison he left less than a year ago. As he emerged from the tent, flanked by police and smilingly handed it to his son, Davidas, without comment, this being his day of silence.

CHILD, 12, FOUND
SHOT TO DEATH

DEFIANCE, Ohio, Jan. 3.—(AP)—The bullet-placed body of 12-year-old Kathleen Carver was found late today lying at the rear of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bender, where she had gone earlier to play with the Bender children.

The Benders, living on a farm north of here, made the discovery when they returned home.

Coroner Frederick Watkins, called by Bender, said the child had been shot through the body at close range, her coat showing powder burns.

Neither the child's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Carver, nor county officers could advance a motive for the killing, although Sheriff Fred Warfield said she may have been shot by a prowler.

Color Consciousness Hits Hollywood Stars

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Mary Pickford is wearing a great deal of red lately.

Jean Harlow, the platinum blond, is preferring black, and Norma Shearer chooses the cool greens.

Hollywood seems to have become color conscious and for a good reason. Mrs. Natalie M. Kalmus, probably the only woman screen color expert, declares color affects not only the nerves but the emotional centers of an individual.

"Each person," she says, "has a color vibration. If you have a color on you that vibrates to your personality, it gives you nerve, life, interest. If you have often wondered why you felt best in certain colors you may rest assured that it is because you vibrate to them."

NEW YORK SESSION HOLDS INTEREST

State Legislature Attracts Attention Because of Roosevelt's Position.

BY WALTER T. BROWN.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 3.—(AP)—New York's legislature, convening this week, draws increased attention because its activities supply a background for Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, an outstanding possibility for the democratic presidential nomination this year.

Governor Roosevelt on January 6, the opening day, will read his message to the lawmakers. Business problems, new taxes and economies in government are general subjects for legislation the governor and the legislature must consider.

A specific subject—continuation of the Seabury Tammany investigation—is likely to involve the legislature in its most heated debate, and the repeal of the state budget by tapping upon Mr. Roosevelt's political future. The Republicans are agreed to continue it and to vote an appropriation of $100,000 to $200,000.

Balancing the state budget by tapping upon Mr. Roosevelt's political future. The Republicans are agreed to continue it and to vote an appropriation of $100,000 to $200,000.

Mr. Roosevelt in his message will suggest new taxes to be enacted immediately. These revenue measures, he said, will commence replenishing the state bank account early in February. The governor's complete revenue plan will not be disclosed until his budget message is sent to the legislature on January 12. He has revealed that his program should bring in enough new money to balance the budget and provide a surplus of $5,000,000. The budget needs total about $300,000,000.

Mr. Roosevelt finds himself facing a republican-controlled assembly and senate. All of the four previous sessions during his four years as governor were republican.

There are indications this year, however, that the majority party will be in harmony with the governor on most subjects. Only a few days ago George R. Fearon, senate whip, asserted the republican leaders desired to co-operate with the executive. W. Kingsland Macy, republican state chairman, has urged harmony, and party pow-wows in Utica and here favored "going along" with Mr. Roosevelt.

BECK MAY SEEK SEAT HELD BY JAMES DAVIS

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 3.—(AP)—The Public Ledger says a movement has been started to bring out Representative James M. Beck, of Philadelphia, a house whip leader, as a candidate in the republican primary next spring for the senate seat now occupied by James J. Davis.

If Beck enters the contest he will have the support, the paper says, of William S. Vare, Philadelphia party leader, and the Mellon group in the western part of the state.

Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the treasury, and his nephew, W. L. Mellon, former chairman of the republican state committee, are reported to be seeking a senatorial candidate from eastern Pennsylvania next year to remove a threat to the success of Senator David A. Reed, of Pittsburgh, when he comes up for re-election in 1934.

Senator Davis also is a resident of Pittsburgh. The Mellons are reported to be believing that the easterners are certain to demand one of the senate seats and as preferring that the demand be made, and met, in the contest involving Senator Davis next year rather than against Senator Reed later.

GILLEN TO PLEAD SESSION PETITION

Committee of 37 To Wait on Governor on Wednesday.

MACON, Ga., Jan. 3.—(AP)—A petition to call the Georgia general assembly in special session to legislate a 30 per cent reduction of the state's cotton acreage will be presented to Governor Richard B. Russell Jr. Wednesday morning by a committee of 37 Georgians headed by L. T. Gillen, speaker pro tem. of the house of representatives.

Copies of the acreage reduction resolution adopted in a meeting of the Georgia committee for control of cotton production here yesterday were sent to all state legislators and senators today with a request that they telegraph to Governor Russell their opinions of the desirability of an extra session.

Unless Georgia adopts acreage reduction measures before January 20, similar legislation in other states automatically will be rescinded, it was said at the meeting here Saturday.

The committee of 37 consists of J. L. Roundtree, Summit; C. M. Skinner Jr., Waynesboro; Robert McGinnis, Cartersville; Max L. McTear, McRae; W. T. Anderson, Macon; Thomas Hamilton, Augusta; Joe M. Johnston, Woodstock; J. H. Johnston, Woodstock; Charles Fitzpatrick, Warrenton; Luke E. Tate, Jasper; J. Oscar Wall, Eatonton; R. B. Wall, Millerville; J. A. Willis, Savannah; Jesse Palmer, Waynesboro; Dr. R. A. Franklin, Jackson; C. H. Harrison, Dawson; Lee Hatcher, Wrightsville; Gus A. Huddleston, Greenville; Carl Nelson, Dublin; T. E. Phillips, Tifton; John P. Rabun, Stapleton; W. G. Sharpe, Savannah; J. Denton, Dalton; C. M. Smith, Commerce; O. H. Arnold, Athens; J. C. Beasley, Glenview; Walter C. Perkins, Millen; C. E. Neisler, Reynolds; H. H. Hatcher, Warrenton; John C. Evans, Warrenton; Julian C. Evans, Warrenton; W. M. Whitehurst, Jeffersonville; Miles Collier, Colbert; Ernest M. Davis, Camilla; J. Scott Davis, Cave Spring; D. C. Chalker, Hawkinsville, and Mr. Gillen, the chairman.

"JEKYLL AND HYDE" GOOD HORROR FILM

Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde, offered this week at the Georgia, easily is outstanding among the recent horror pictures. Intelligently and smoothly handled throughout, two things stand out in the generally good effect. One is that Frederick March is possessed of a character that is a character, and the other is that the screen is an excellent medium for a drama of this type.

The photographer's skill makes possible some truly startling and effective effects as its transforms the serious and handsome Dr. Jekyll into the grinning and fiendish Hyde even as we watch the emotional transmutation.

Robert Louis Stevenson might be a bit surprised at the things the producers have done to his story at the time, but they did a good job, good taste not to tack on a happy ending. The denouement of this weird tale is a fitting and entirely appropriate climax to a good piece of work.

Ross Hobbart gives splendid support in the role of the victim of Hyde's heist. Miriam Hopkins is beautiful and appealing as the hapless fiancée.

Harry Burns' comedy and Duval's legend are the brightest spots in a vaudeville bill that is, at best, only mediocre. Burns is no master comedian but some of his stunts are good against the drab background of the rest of the affair. Duval, again, is no Thurston, but does amuse with his yards and silk. Karyl Norman, or, at least, was Saturday night, far from good. Perhaps it was the larva from which it was announced he was suffering. Birnes and Kaye are a punk duo team who would do well to dance more and talk less, although their hoofing is far from brilliant. —LEWIS HAWKINS.

FARRELL-GAYNOR DUO SCORES AGAIN

"Delicious," showing at the Fox theater this week, featuring Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell, New sweethearts, and El Brendel, is a typical Gaynor-Farrell picture. It is a highly unlikely story that happens almost every day in motion-picture America.

The well-known sweetheart team does its work well and most convincingly. And Chaste El Brendel chases back and forth through the picture supplying a laugh at every appearance.

Farrell is a famous American millionaire and his closest friend is little Janet Gaynor, arrayed in the plaids of bonny Scotland, from which country she is endeavoring to enter America. After failing to meet Mr. Elliot at Ellis Island, Janet is forced to enter the United States hidden in a horse van belonging to Farrell. She is delivered with the horse to Farrell's palatial home, where the romance started on the boat goes rapidly.

Janet, after being pursued by the immigration officers all over New York city, is finally caught and deported. Farrell arises from his sick bed, and turns the return journey to Scotland into a honeymoon trip.

George Gershwin wrote the music for the background of "Delicious," and his New York Rhapsody is thrilling, picturing in music bizarre New York with rare feeling. It is even better than his Rhapsody in Blue, the composition made famous by Paul Whiteman.

Enrico Leide and the Fox orchestra present a delightful overture in "Roses in Toyland" (special arrangement) by Victor Herbert, and short subjects and the usual Sunkist Beauties in the Fanchon and Marco stage idea complete a pleasant program.

At Evans and his chorus of 5,000 sang. —FRANK M. DRAKE.

40-Plane Air Fleet Leaves Gotham Today for Miami Via Savannah

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Forty planes bearing approximately the same number of society fliers will take off tomorrow morning on a four-day jaunt to Miami, Fla., where they will compete in amateur events at the national air races.

The ships will be flown by men and women members of the Amateur Air Pilots' Association and of aviation country clubs. An elaborate program of social functions awaits them at the various stopping places en route.

On tomorrow's leg of the tour the fliers will descend for a buffet luncheon at Henry B. du Pont's private flying field, Wilmington, Del. They will spend the night at Washington.

MODERN ART EXHIBIT IN SAVANNAH ACADEMY

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 3.—(AP)—One of the most important of the five exhibitions to be held at the Tel-fair academy this season will open this week. There will be a private view for members Tuesday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock and the exhibition will be open to the public Wednesday morning.

The other group is "Modern Painters, American and Foreign." It consists of 30 oil paintings, including such names as Paul Dougherty, Gifford Best, Bradley Leroy, Rockwell Kent, Emma Clardi, Irving Willes and others. In this group Savannah people will be interested to find two paintings by William Chadwick, who was here a few years ago as instructor for the Savannah Art Club. An exhibition of Mr. Chadwick's paintings was held at that time.

Georgia News Told in Brief

Firecracker in Shirt. ROCKMART, Ga., Jan. 3.—With the exception of one accident in which a large firecracker thrown into the air by a companion, landed inside the shirt of Allen Roberts, tearing a hole in his back, no casualties were reported here during the holidays. After lockout serum had been administered and the wound dressed, the lad was allowed to return to his home.

Boys Get Jump. SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 2.—(AP)—The first four babies born here of parents living in the city and county since the new year began, both white and negro, have been boys, not a girl being among the lot.

Held for Mail Theft. WAYCROSS, Ga., Jan. 3.—Larry Baxter, 23, brought to Waycross on a charge of entering a mail sack at Everett, Ga., has waived commitment before United States Commissioner Walter Thomas and is held in the Ware county jail, awaiting trial in the Waycross division of federal court.

Cafe Re-opened. WAYCROSS, Ga., Jan. 3.—The Phoenix hotel re-opened its dining room and cafe Sunday. It is located on the ground floor and has been entirely remodeled and redecorated. It will be under the management and personal supervision of Mrs. J. E. Foy.

Legion Minstrel Show. TENNILLE, Ga., Jan. 3.—The Washington post of the American Legion sponsored a minstrel show last night at the Tennille auditorium for the benefit of the post.

10 Stills Seized. ROCKMART, Ga., Jan. 3.—County Officer George M. Barrett reported this week 10 stills destroyed in this section during the past 10 days, ranging in size from 60-gallon capacity to 600 gallons. The officers captured five of the stills near Eson Hill, Ga., on the same day. No arrests were made in either case.

Led Conference. WAYCROSS, Ga., Jan. 3.—In 1931 the Waycross district, Rev. James R. Kirby, preaching elder, led the South Georgia Methodist conference in the number of churches that paid out in full, including salary for the preaching elder, salary for the pastor, and general and conference benevolences.

Washington Ginnings. TENNILLE, Ga., Jan. 3.—The last report from Washington Ginnings county for 1931, as announced by E. C. May, of Sandersville, official statistician for the government, shows a decrease of 1,878 bales as compared with the year 1930. The total bales ginned this season up to December 16 is 10,487, while in 1930 up to the same time 21,365 bales were reported.

Statesboro Fire. STATESBORO, Ga., Jan. 3.—The handsome home of John H. Doudney in Statesboro was completely destroyed by fire Saturday night. Mr. Doudney, alone in the house, was awakened from sleep after the fire had gained such headway that attempts to save it were futile. Some household goods were saved. Insurance partially covered the loss. It is thought that the fire started from defective wiring.

Arson Charged. MACON, Ga., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Bibb county police tonight arrested Lewis Colbert, negro, and charged him with arson in connection with the burning of his house in Unionville, a negro community. Three recent fires have been reported in the community. Colbert's house was said to have been heavily insured, and county police said they found evidence of arson, including traces of kerosene.

Highway Right of Way Cleared in Randolph. DAWSON, Ga., Jan. 3.—According to information received today from Cuthbert, the Randolph county road forces have about completed their work of opening and clearing the right of way for the new Cuthbert-Georgetown road, from Cuthbert to the Quitman county line, preparatory to grading this stretch, which is a portion of the Jefferson Davis highway, on state route No. 50. Machinery and other necessary equipment to be used in grading this road has been placed on the ground for beginning this work, probably next week.

More Babies Are Born After Duce's Command. ROME, Jan. 3.—(UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini's command to the Italian people to increase the productivity of the nation's most worthwhile crop, babies, is being obeyed enthusiastically, it was revealed today.

The excess of births over deaths between April 21 and November 30, when the census was taken, was 228,000, according to the official figures. The Italian population is now 41,450,000.

Retired Italian Pens Story of Rule Of Bandit Queen Over Part of Sicily. BY ANDRUE BERDING. PALERMO, Sicily, Jan. 3.—(AP)—The hard-bitten ruler in which a bandit queen ruled over a large section of Sicily is described by Cesare Mori in a report he is writing on how, after a three-year campaign, he recently freed this southern island from the grip of the Mafia terrorist society.

Mori retired after the fight to pen his story. Mussolini made him a senator in recognition of his victory. His report will tell how the little city of Gangi, honeycombed with caves, was the headquarters of a strong section of the Mafia, headed by the notorious brigande, Ciccio Melchiorre and Gaetano Ferrarello, who had been fugitives for more than 30 years.

When Mori decided to move on the city he sent a telegram to the mayor ordering him to call for the surrender of all fugitives within 12 hours. He vowed that if any refused he would fight them "until the last breath."

Small Boy Explains Vandalism to Church

RAINBRIDGE, Ga., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Chief of Police John H. Emanuel today announced a small boy had confessed to destruction of some property at the Catholic church here and members of the church reported the structure had been vandalized for a fourth time by vandals.

Chief Emanuel said the boy confessed that he threw a brick through a stained glass window from a nearby tree. The brick knocked down a statue inside the church.

No explanation had been made, however, of how property of the church was damaged on other occasions. Members said the latest visit of vandals, fixed on Friday night, resulted in little damage.

ROBBERS TAKE SAFE FROM AUGUSTA STORE

AUGUSTA, Ga., Jan. 3.—(AP)—A safe containing several hundred dollars, part of which belonged to a branch postoffice, was taken from the King Drug Company in North Augusta, S. C., last night and found today in a woods five miles away, unopened.

The safe was discovered by a party of rabbit hunters, covered with leaves and pine cones. The combination and hinges had been battered.

Augusta police obtained fingerprints they said they believed had been made by the thieves who removed the safe. Postal inspectors also were working on the case.

It was the second time the store had been robbed within a week.

Four Traffic Deaths in Savannah in 1931. SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 3.—(AP)—Four of the 33,000 estimated traffic deaths in the United States in 1931 were on Savannah streets with 1,192 accidents reported in Savannah for the year. No figures were available on the number of persons injured in local mishaps.

August had the greatest number of accidents of any month in the year, with a total of 119, while November had the fewest with only 22 recorded. By months, the accident figures were as follows: January, 97; February, 88; March, 97; April, 98; May, 97; June, 98; July, 105; August, 119; September, 114; October, 117; November, 82, and December, 108.

Classification of the accidents follows: Between automobiles and automobiles, 840; between automobiles and pedestrians, 171; between automobiles and street cars, 21; between automobiles and bicycles, 53; between automobiles and motor trucks, 22; between automobiles and railroad trains, 3; between automobiles and fixed objects, 45; between automobiles and boys, 37.

Boy Dies of Injuries When Struck by Auto. RAINBRIDGE, Ga., Jan. 3.—(AP)—William Lee, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mobley, of Princess, Ga., three miles west of here, died tonight in a hospital here as the result of injuries sustained this afternoon when he was run down by an automobile driven by Fletcher Hazelhurst on state highway No. 27, between Macon and Brunswick.

Besides his parents, the boy is survived by two brothers and three sisters. Funeral services will be held at the Kersey graveyard in Jeff Davis county Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. G. N. Smith, pastor of the Friendship Congregational church, will conduct the services.

Mayor J. G. Dean and Councilmen W. Mack Brown, Fred L. Lassiter and Tobe D. Wall continue in office for the year 1932 and the retiring councilmen are W. Frank English, H. Albert Petty and George L. Uphaw.

The popular "Nancy Lee's Stroll" of WGST will be featured tonight in the "bicentennial" program and Mrs. John W. Ward and Miss Donna Silvers will sing "Father of the Land We Love," said to have been written especially for the two hundredth anniversary celebration of the birth of George Washington.

At 6 o'clock tonight WSB will offer the weekly broadcast of the Georgia Federation of Music Clubs, sponsored by the Atlanta Music Club and arranged by Mrs. Charles Chalmers. The musicians will be Elinor Whitmore King and Gust Farmer, violinists, and Ruby Chalmers, pianist, playing the concerto for two violins, by Bach, and a number by Godard.

Every artist who has ever faced a microphone in the WJTL studios and everyone who has been on a program in any capacity have been invited by Dr. Thornton Wells Jackson, president of Oglethorpe University, owner of the station, to attend an all-night party Wednesday night in the university dining hall. A dinner cooked and served under the supervision of an expert dietitian will be served, and the entire proceedings of the affair will be broadcast, every artist expected to do at least one number.

The invitation list did not include the members of "Our Gang Fun Club," the children having previously held their party.

WEST POINT, Ga., Jan. 3.—Tabitha Wilkerson, 80-year-old negro, who lived with her son, Albert Wilkerson, on Jackson Hill, Lanett, was burned to death Saturday. She had been subject to heart attacks and had been confined to her bed until New Year's day.

Yesterday was the second day she had been up and she was sitting in front of the fire this morning when her granddaughter, who was with her, went out of the house. Retreating in a few moments, the granddaughter found the aged negroess lying in front of the fire with her clothes in flames. Life was extinct before the flames were extinguished.

Big Bill Daly Has Football That Traveled

Big Bill Daly, trainer for the Tech High football team, has a football that has been places and seen things. It is autographed by all members of the Tech High team, including such stars as Pug Boyd and Hoot Gibson, and it is a football that has the record of traveling 100,000 miles in the last 70 seconds of the Tech High-G. M. A. game.

Tech High won a great victory that day, 19-7, when Gibson kicked a field goal from 25 yards with one second to play.

The ball started on its historic round of travel near the close of the Tech High-G. M. A. game. Standing behind his own goal line, Hoot Gibson passed 5 yards to Pug Boyd, who dashed 35 yards to a touchdown. Gibson kicked the extra point, tying the score at 7-7.

The Smithies then kicked off 50 yards to the G. M. A. 5-yarder and McKay, star back of the Cadets, returned it 30 yards. G. M. A. ran over and passed. Pug Boyd intercepted it after it had traveled 30 yards and ran it 52 yards down to G. M. A.'s 8.

From a difficult angle Gibson dropped back and booted the field goal that decided the most sensational football finish in Atlanta's prep history.

What a lot of flying around that old pigskin saw in one minute of action! Hoot Gibson, Smithie captain, presented the ball to Daly with autographs and Bill treasures it along with the football with which Georgia scored her first victory over Yale 7-1927.

Fred Perry Beats Borotra in Final

PARIS, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Frederick J. Perry, British tennis ace, swept aside the veteran Frenchman, Jean Borotra, to win the singles final in the annual Christmas cup finals at the Sporting Club de Paris today. The scores were 6-4, 7-5, 6-1, 6-3.

Perry teamed up with Christian Bousquet of France, yesterday to win the doubles final from Marcel Bernard and Paul Peret, of France, 6-4, 6-4, 6-3.

Perry's victory over Borotra in singles further emphasized the decline in the French veteran's game. Borotra, virtually unbeatable indoors in the past, has had a virtual struggle hold on the Christmas cup singles trophy for some years. He defeated Big Bill Tilden for the title in 1930.

LUCKY FEET

It is the belief of Yankee followers—that, despite all this gossip about lower salaries, Gehrig is due for a pretty healthy increase. And it's also reasonable to assume that Chapman, the best base-stealer in the major leagues in a decade, and Gomez, one of the best-looking, rookie pitchers for some time, will receive a boost in their pay checks.

RUTH'S SALARY TO BE DECIDED WITHIN WEEK

Babe Expected To Accept Substantial Reduction Without Murmur.

By Dixon Stewart, United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(UP)—Babe Ruth, the highest-paid performer in baseball, will learn this week how much money the New York Yankees are willing to pay for his services during the 1932 major league season.

The home run king, who received $80,000 last year, will receive the new contract tomorrow or Tuesday. Indications are that he will sign without any attempt to bolster the sum called for in the document.

Since the close of the 1931 season the question of Ruth's salary has been the outstanding topic in baseball circles. It is generally agreed that the Babe will have to take a cut of at least $10,000, and probably more.

Colonel Jake Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, has announced that, so far as he is concerned, 1931 saw the passing of the $80,000-a-year ball player. Ruth took the announcement calmly and said he realized that owners do not pay dividends to players because of years of service or other sentimental reasons.

But it still would be a good bet to name Babe Ruth as the player who will receive most money in 1932. He did much toward giving the Yankees second place in the American league last season and although his legs are not what they used to be, he ranged next to Al Simmons, of Philadelphia, as the best all-around hitter in the game. His home-run production fell off a bit, but still it was good enough to earn him a tie with his teammate, Lou Gehrig, for the major league leadership.

BABE WELL OFF.

Ruth is not perturbed. Since he deserted the ranks of baseball's playboys, he has saved a comfortable fortune. A few thousand dollars more or less won't make much difference to his coffers. That is one of the reasons baseball followers believe Ruth will sign without argument.

The Yankees are likely to have more difficulty signing Lou Gehrig, Ben Chapman and Lefty Gomez than they are in getting Ruth's signature. Gehrig received $25,000 last season and there are few, if any, fans who will tell you that Ruth is worth $55,000 more than the slugging first-baseman.

It is the belief of Yankee followers—that, despite all this gossip about lower salaries, Gehrig is due for a pretty healthy increase. And it's also reasonable to assume that Chapman, the best base-stealer in the major leagues in a decade, and Gomez, one of the best-looking, rookie pitchers for some time, will receive a boost in their pay checks.

THE SPORTLIGHT

By Way of Wishing.
Driftwood, dreamer, vagabond
And all you motley crew,
I hereby send my humble wish
To all the drift of you—
The friendly hail, the grip of hand,
That start the rover's code,
And all the luck a tramp might have
Along a friendly road.

And if by chance there comes a time
When you might wish for me
A proper share of pleasant fate
Across the years to be,
What is there more to ask than this,
Within this brief aside,
A pal or two—a dream or two—
Along a friendly road?

The Quick Starter.

Just as the final football cheer died away, the golf rash began breaking out again with all its old fury.

Tommy Armour opened the year by breaking a course record in the Miami open within sight of the Atlantic, and now a flock of golfers are all set to take their shots at $25,000 in prizes, waiting for the Los Angeles and the Agua Caliente tests, which are now among the finest competitions the old game has to see.

The range of talent extends from 21-year-old entries on through to Mac Smith, now starting his twenty-third competitive year.

Golf calls out to the multitudes when business is good, and when business is a trifle blue around the gills there is no better place in which to forget troubles than in the depths of a depressing put—or to peer along a green carpet and watch a white ball disappear into a cup. Especially if said ball is yours—and not your opponent's.

The B G Game.

When we suggested a short while back that Tulane would be a match for anybody—not even barring U. S. C.—the flow of mail from the Los Angeles sector was replete with invective, which carried no touch of the lighter mood. It seemed to be something in the way of sacrifice to suggest that any football team at this stage could give Southern California a battle in its own far western neighborhood.

There was no questioning the power and ability of Southern California. But Tulane around the middle of November was the best-looking team we had seen all year and the old adage still goes that no superman exists.

Football is full of breaks and, as the Rose Bowl game (toughed out, there were two evenly matched teams, and the winner got its full share of these breaks.

Few would have believed in advance that Tulane would make almost twice as many first downs and gain almost twice as much ground logging the football.

As Pop Warner put it, "Fumbles cost Tulane the game," but there was no questioning the speed, power and alertness of the Green Wave at the game's end. To face a handicap of 21 points and then come slashing proved the spirit of the beaten team.

Power Accepted.

No one doubted the great power of the Pacific coast team. More than 8,300 fans witnessed the battle.

FALCONS WIN.

DETROIT, Jan. 3.—(UP)—Detroit's Falcons defeated the Toronto Maple Leafs tonight, 3 to 2, in an exciting overtime National league hockey game. More than 8,300 fans witnessed the battle.

REARD HONORED IN SELECTIONS

Ex-Anuburn Star Wins 2 Places on All-American Team.

By Stuart Cameron, United Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(UP)—Pacific athletes dominate the annual all-American track and field selections made by Dan Ferris, secretary of the Amateur Athletic Union, which were announced today.

Twelve of the 36 places awarded were to stars of the west coast, with Los Angeles Athletic Club members leading.

Only one athlete was given two places on the team. He is Percy Beard, of the New York A. C., named for the 70-yard high hurdles, and the 120-yard high hurdles.

Beard, who is the world record holder in the 120-yard high hurdles and national hurdles champion, is a graduate of Alabama Polytechnic Institute and presently an instructor at Anuburn. His national fame as an athlete was attained subsequent to his graduation.

Among the repeaters are Frank Wykoff, of the Los Angeles A. C., 100-yard dash; Robert Maxwell, of the L. A. A. C., low hurdles; Edwin Gennung, of Washington A. C., Seattle, half mile; and William Zepp, of Emorywood A. C., Baltimore, 15 miles.

Ray Conger, of the Illinois A. C., was changed from the mile to the 2,000-yard run, and William Zepp, of Emorywood A. C., Baltimore, 15 miles.

Butts Among Best Of Prep Coaches

Young Madison Mentor Is Praised by College Heads for Sound Teaching of Fundamentals.

By Jimmy Jones.

Wallace Butts, the modest young man who has turned out another first-class prep football team at Madison this year, is beginning to attract attention in college coaching circles as a real teacher of fundamentals. On this year's Madison squad, there are several players who are considered prizes for any college, principally because Butts has given them a thoroughgoing knowledge of football while turning out a championship club.

Henry Wagon, an end, and Hines, a back, are just two of the outstanding performers Butts has produced this year. In the few years he has been coach at Madison, he not only has brought the game along, but has developed many classy performers such as the two boys mentioned above.

College coaches, who see their share of half-back players who demand two years of added instruction before becoming of any value to the varsity, always like to get Madison graduates because they seem to know what it is all about and take hold quickly on plays. As a college player, Butts was handicapped by lack of size, but he made it up by study of the game and hustling. He has transferred this quality to his own players.

His first sign of coaching genius was shown his first year out of college, when he took the Mercer freshman squad and made a fine showing with light material. His coach not him the job at Madison and Butts continued making good in a big way.

When Butts' name is brought up in a circle of college circles, one immediately hears some nice things about the quiet young chap. He is rated one of the best posted prep school coaches in the south.

CODY IS BOOSTER.

Josh Cody, of Vanderbilt, is a great booster of Butts' system of coaching and recommended him to "Dixie" Mead, who recently replaced Ed Smith at Furman as an assistant.

Bernie Moore, now on the coaching staff of L. S. U., coached Butts when he was playing right end at Mercer on the same team that included "Phoney" Smith a few years back, and he termed him the best blocking end he ever saw.

Moore declared that he was a great pass receiver, but when it came to playing his position and carrying out assignments, he was unbeatable. Moore declared that he was a great pass receiver, but when it came to playing his position and carrying out assignments, he was unbeatable.

MOORE WAS GREAT PLAYER.

Moore also thinks Butts is one of the smartest all-around players he ever knew. "He was seldom ridden out of a play and he certainly made things tough on a tackle," he added. Incidentally it was the pressure Butts put on the opposite tackle that helped "Phoney" Smith's famous off-tackle runs go so good.

Butts also played one season as a halfback, hence his versatility at coaching both line and backfield. He was prepared at G. M. A. Milledgeville, a school that has produced many fine athletes for Georgia colleges, Graham, Batcher, center, and Turleyville, end, now at Georgia, and Chambers, guard, and Dupree, backs, members of Auburn squad, are G. M. C. products.

His career at Madison is interesting. He went there to find the sport of football in a bad way. Madison hadn't had an outstanding team in some time. There was little, if any, material, but he started winning right from the start. His first team was fairly successful. The next year it did better and the third year found Butts' boys playing G. M. C. for the G. A. A. title.

GREAT ADVANCE.

The first crowd that watched one of Butts' games at Madison totaled 50 persons. Now the entire township is turning out and Butts is one of Madison's most popular citizens.

Up there they think he is the greatest young coach in the country. The word was in Madison when the score of the Madison-Richmond Academy game came in. It was 58-19, or something like that. On every store window the result was posted. Madisonians were happy but not surprised. They apparently expected the score to be larger.

Butts' system is simple but effective. He is a great believer in team play, plenty of hard work and effective blocking. Not long ago he fired several star players from his squad because they didn't have the right attitude toward the game.

"I'd rather have a fairly good player playing for his team than a star player for himself," Butts stated at the time.

Don't be surprised to see Wallace going to some college as assistant coach before long. Furman and a few others have their eye on him.

Ensor Comes Back In Race at Havana

HAVANA, Jan. 3.—(AP)—Lavelle (Buddy) Ensor, famed jockey of a year ago, came back in dramatic fashion at Oriental park today.

In frequent trouble with racing authorities during his riding career, Ensor's chance to stage a comeback came in the fourth race, an $800 claiming affair.

He had the mount on J. E. Smallman's Nelson, a 5-year-old gelded son of Cherokee and Some Kid. Away with the leaders, Nelson, under Ensor's handling, raced along smoothly and quickly outran his field.

BAMA TO PLAY HOWARD FIVE AT TUSCALOOSA

Tech Meets Florida Quint at Gainesville on Saturday Night.

By The Associated Press.

With a formidable quintet from Maryland, champion last year, favored to set the pace, Southern conference basketball teams tonight start their drives for 1932 recognition.

A few contests, including one conference and one non-conference, engagements already have been played during the holidays, but this week finds most of the 23 conference teams ready to face the business of winning enough games to warrant their participation in the annual championship tournament here in February.

Kentucky opened its conference campaign last night with an easy victory over Clemson, 45 to 24.

VOLS OPEN SEASON.

Tennessee's Volunteers open their season with Clemson at Knoxville tonight, and on Saturday battle the Georgia Bulldogs on the same court.

Alabama plays Howard at Tuscaloosa tonight and on Friday and Saturday entertains Tulane for a brace of games. South Carolina encounters Clemson at Columbia Thursday and Friday.

Florida makes its conference debut against Georgia Tech in Gainesville Saturday night, while Wake Forest at Durham Friday and William and Mary Saturday.

The titular five from Maryland start the defense of their crown at College Park Saturday against Washington and Lee's Generals. Kentucky, runner-up to Maryland in the south in 1931, has an intercollegiate tilt with Detroit in the Michigan city Saturday.

VANDY PLAYS, TOO.

On Saturday Vanderbilt tackles Auburn at Nashville, Virginia, meets Navy at Charlottesville, V. M. I. plays St. Johns of Annapolis at Lexington and North Carolina faces Davidson at Charlotte, N. C. North Carolina State battles William and Mary at Raleigh Friday, while on Wednesday North Carolina meets Guilford at Chapel Hill.

A small number of important games are scheduled in the Southern intercollegiate Athletic Association and the Dixie conference.

Florida Plays Waycross Five.

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Jan. 3.—(AP) Gainesville of Florida basketball moves into momentum next week with three contests.

The Gators first meet the Waycross (Ga.) Red Flashes tomorrow night; next, the Jacksonville Independents, on Wednesday night, and then the Jacksonville conference game with Georgia Tech on Saturday night. All the games will be played here.

DARTMOUTH WINS.

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(UP)—Dartmouth defeated Manhattan College in basketball last night by a score of 30-24. Mackay, of Dartmouth, was high scorer with a total of 10 points.

Fire Insurance FACTS "Hotter'n Blazes"

BY WOOD BURNS

Well, folks, now that you've launched into a brand-new year, "turned over a new leaf" and so on, check up on your fire insurance and see where your "burnables" would stand in case any of "our shavings" are consumed in the year 1932.

Last year's successes and failures are so much "water over the dam"—we're now bucking up our joints for bigger and better business; more honest-to-goodness livin' and greater happiness in our daily and Sunday lives.

And along with brand-new opportunities comes a brand-new 1932 pledge from the members of the Atlanta Association of Fire Insurance agents, who are responsible for this column that runs over Monday in the sports section of this paper, to give you, if possible, an even greater service this year than any previous year in the history of the association.

So, no matter how great or how small you might feel your fire insurance problem to be, let's keep in mind the fact that any member agent of this association will be more than happy at any time to help you in any way that your particular case requires.

If you're changing your address or adding to your home, or making any changes whatsoever in your buildings, stock, etc., don't fail to inform your agent so that your policy may be kept up-to-date in every respect.

The association wishes you the very best of every good thing this new year.

And don't forget—"VALUE IN INSURANCE LIES IN THE INTEGRITY AND KNOWLEDGE OF YOUR AGENT."

Yours, W. B.

"AMERICAN DRUG STORE, ENGLISH SPOKEN"

EVERYTHING FRENCH... la, la! How we love it!

The plainest little four-franc cotton handkerchief... the merest tin trinket of a pin or bracelet from the rue de Rivoli... a post-card even, with a blue stamp... how glamorous it is—bought in Paris! It couldn't be more thrilling if it came from Paradise!

But did you ever buy anything in a French drug store? Did you ever find yourself suddenly out of toothpaste or complexion soap? Did you ever wonder if there was any place in the whole of Paris to buy your own brand of liquid nail polish or astringent?

Then you know the sheer excitement of discovering the little sign "American Drug Store." You know the almost homesick thrill of seeing familiar face powder boxes and talcum tins, and even a counter card displaying the same girl's head that advertises some favorite product at home!

It is significant that these American toiletries for which we gladly pay two prices in Europe are nearly always the well-known, well-advertised brands at home. And no matter where we buy them, the quality of the goods, the quantity, the uniformity, are precisely the same.

By studying the advertisements... by asking for things by the brand name... we seldom fail to get our money's worth on any side of the wide world!

George Coleman Is Christened At Epworth Church

Christening services were held at 11 o'clock yesterday morning at Epworth church on McLeod avenue for George Wayne Coleman, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. George Coleman, of 329 Candler street, N. E. The officiating minister was the Rev. B. Plin, pastor of the church, and the christening service was held just preceding the morning church service.

Miss Daisy Harris and Miss Mary Zachry, aunts of the baby, stood as godmothers. Master Coleman wore for the christening a long robe of hand-woven linen, elaborately embroidered, and made 125 years ago for the christening service of his great-grandfather, Jack Coleman. The dress was made by Mrs. Wise, great-grandmother of Jack Coleman, who not only wore the cloth but fashioned the tiny stitches and the embroidery by hand. The baby is the grandson of Mr. L. M. Zachry and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Trammell. He is the great-grandson of Mrs. C. F. Harris and Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Elliott.

Studio Club Will Honor New Members

The Studio Club will hold a reception this evening at the clubrooms on Forsyth street in honor of the new members who have been enrolled during the last few weeks. The affair is being arranged with varied features, each of the art groups contributing some special feature. The music group, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Andrew Fairlie, will present the string quartet of the Atlanta Philharmonic Society. This is Atlanta's newest chamber music organization and will be its introduction to the Studio Club. Miss Ruth Dabney Smith is first violin, Miss Rose Thompson, second violin; Miss Senia Mueller, viola, and Tom Hutcheson, cello.

Mrs. Nina Hansel McDonald, chairman of the writers' group, is arranging book readings. H. C. McLaughlin, chairman of the beaux arts group, is arranging an original skit. Oliver Vinour is presenting a French skit and Richard Moreau is furnishing a specialty act from the dramatic group. Cyril B. Smith, president of the club, and Mrs. Smith will be assisted in receiving by the officers, including Oliver Vinour, Mrs. Richard Moreau, Mrs. Florence Brine and Miss Grace Heyle.

Assisting in the entertainment of the guests will be the entertainers, which includes Mrs. Katherine Conner and Miss Kate F. Edwards, chairmen; Mrs. W. L. Shalenderberger, Mrs. J. L. Edwards, Mrs. A. L. Downer, Mrs. Lewis Shidmore, Mrs. Richard Moreau, Mrs. Florence Brine, Mrs. Tom English, Knowles Davis and George Ramey.

The new members who are honor guests of the occasion embrace a distinguished group of Atlanta art lovers and include: Mrs. James H. Nunnally, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Federick, Mrs. William Healey, Miss Ina Cone, Mrs. Hope Ferguson, Mrs. Mason I. Lowance, Mrs. Marion Seandrett, Leonard Hunter, Miss Mary Allen, Miss Evelyn Bryd, Mrs. Winship Nunnally, Thurston Hatcher, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Barnitz, Miss Mary Ramage, Miss Evelyn Ramage, Mrs. Ruby Slaton, Mrs. A. I. Downer, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen T. Knowles, Mrs. Davis Marjorie Beilfuss, Miss Gene Nutting, Mrs. A. L. Danglerfield, Mrs. Floyd McRae and Kemp Caler.

Events of Year To Be Reviewed At Y. W. C. A. Meeting February 5

The Young Women's Christian Association will hold its annual meeting February 5. At this time the entire membership of the Y. W. C. A. is invited to assemble for dinner and a program reviewing the outstanding events of the year, and interpreting the spirit and policies of the association. Officers will be elected and new board members introduced.

According to an announcement by Mrs. John J. Egan, president of the board of directors, a number of distinguished leaders in civic, church and social life of the city will be invited, as well as friends and relatives of the members.

Miss Corin Lou Allgood, industrial secretary, announces that there has been no lull in the industrial department during the Christmas and New Year holidays. The girls are showing increased interest in club activities and an enlarged enrollment is expected for the spring interest groups which will be organized at the meeting this evening. According to preference expressed by the majority of members, swimming, drama and ballroom dancing are most popular and will continue under the volunteer leadership of Mrs. C. E. Drummond, Miss Sara Carter and Miss Margaret Morgan. A class in current events and book-reviewing has been requested and other classes will be organized later.

A feature of this evening's program will be the devotional service led by Mrs. Comer Woodward, member of the industrial committee. Mrs. Woodward will discuss excerpts from "Love, the Law of Life," by Kagawa, the eminent Japanese philosopher. At the informal holiday meeting last Monday evening, the club welcomed Miss Augusta Roberts, former group leader, who is now Y. W. C. A. student secretary at the University of Kentucky. Miss Roberts is visiting her home in Decatur.

One of the most interesting exhibits ever displayed in the Y. W. C. A. lobby is that sent from the women's division of the United States department of labor, depicting "Steps to Safety and Efficiency for Wage Earning Women." With a brightly colored factory building as background, the average working girl is pictured mounting steps such as "living wage, eight-hour work day, no night work, safeguards against hazards, prevention of strain at work" and others. As the moral points out, these steps lead to "well-being for industry and business," as well as family life and womanhood. Safety for the individual means safety for the home, the nation and the race and the need for it is beautifully illustrated in this exhibit, which has attracted wide attention and comment.

Dr. Stuart R. Oglesby, pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, is requested to bring the first devotional of the New Year to the Y. W. C. A. staff, which meets Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Cobb and Mrs. Alden Feted By Wesleyan Alumnae Group

Mrs. John B. Cobb, of Kiroshima, Japan, and Mrs. H. S. Alden were honored guests of the Wesleyan Alumnae Group III, entertained by Mrs. G. I. Johnson, chairman, at her home on Somerset terrace, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Cobb was a classmate of Mrs. Johnson, and Mrs. Alden is president of the Wesleyan Alumnae Association in Atlanta, and also a member of the group.

Mrs. Cobb gave an interesting talk on "Women of Today in Japan" and Mrs. Alden gave a group of delightful readings of the Georgia poets. Mrs. Warren R. Woodward and Mrs. J. B. McNeely, accompanied by Mrs. G. I. Johnson, sang selections from their repertoire.

Mrs. Johnson was assisted in receiving the guests by her mother, Mrs. C. J. Ralston, of Macon.

The group members present were: Mesdames H. S. Alden, Margaret Atkinson Clark, of LaGrange, Ga.; John B. Cobb, of Kiroshima, Japan; J. F. Callaway, Miss Odile Dauber, of Macon; Mesdames W. C. Dumas, J. Ross Garner, Judson M. Garner, Thad Horton, Ernest Ivy, G. L. Johnson, H. J. Maddux, J. B. McNeely, J. W. Poole, W. R. Woodward and C. J. Ralston, Macon.

Auxiliary Honored

Mrs. E. M. Redwine entertained the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Order of the Eastern Star, Tuesday at her home on Jefferson avenue. The house was elaborately decorated and luncheon was served. Announcement was made of the officers for the coming year as follows: Mrs. E. C. Adams, president; Mrs. L. M. Akers, vice president; Mrs. J. C. Cowden, secretary, and Mrs. M. Camp, treasurer.

LUMBER BUSINESS INCREASE REPORTED

December Best Month of Quarter, East Side Company Says.

T. W. Robinson, general manager of the East Side Lumber & Coal Company, reports that his business showed a good substantial increase the past three months over the corresponding months of 1930, and especially so in December which was the best month of the three.

"We made a pretty careful study of the business situation and condition of homes in our section of the city and county," says Mr. Robinson, "and decided that we would stock up to the limit of our storage capacity in preparation for increased business. Then we started our advertising campaign in the latter part of November, and while this is supposed to be the dull season of the year for building supply people, business began to pick up remarkably well with us, and December was our best month of the quarter."

The East Side Lumber Company has increased their buying power also, and gone more into the wholesale end of the building supply business.

Among many other commodities, they are specializing in good roofing materials and fine doors and sash. In shingle and roll roofing, they are carrying great stocks of long-wearing roofing in the latest pattern in design and coloring. This roofing is all fresh made stock and can be applied without loss in extra dryness or many less handlings, and has a long time guarantee back of every square or roll they sell.

The doors they carry in stock are also the latest in design, in panel, and veneer, and they have a large variety in selection that permits the home owner, builder or architect the opportunity to get just the right door they may desire.

In framing lumber, this company carries timbers in all sizes, lengths and widths. They have it in the rough, cheap grades suitable for barns, sheds or storage houses, or better grades, dressed four sides, suitable for all building purposes. They carry sills and joists in extra long and wide widths, and is a popular place for builders to go to or call upon when they want something in lumber.

The East Side has always been noted for its good grades of interior trim and casing. They have these materials in large quantities in their warehouses, and as narrow or as wide as they may be wanted. They also have some extra wide soft California pine, such as patterned and quarter-round-carvers like to use. Other warehouses contain several kinds of wall boards, such as Celotex, plaster board, rock and cement sheet boards, and pressed wood board, all of which are very desirable for partitions, side walls and ceilings.

One of the big factors in this firm's success is their ability to get out any kind of a bill of lumber in their well-equipped planning mill. Here they have men of long experience who have formed into shape the interior and exterior wood work of some of the finest homes in and around Atlanta. Architects are selecting them for the difficult stairwork and fine panel ceiling and ornamental woodwork, and the pleasing part of this kind of work is that they have the dry and seasoned soft or hardwoods to quickly execute the large or small special mill work.

The East Side Lumber Company serves the builders and home-owners in the country and small towns just as they do Atlanta people, and as they carry all the supplies, from the brick, plaster and cement all the way to the finishing coats of paint, varnishes and hardware, to the front door lock and key, they can get out the full bill of lumber up to the limit of their storage capacity, and around the house, and include everything in the one bill or carload shipment. Then after the last fire grate or stove, put in the mill, furnish some of the best trades or carpenter work to heat the house, all at the lowest of good fuel costs.

Mr. Robinson says their survey showed them that an old-fashioned built house now vacant would be rented if the owners would spend but a little for materials and labor, both of which can be obtained now cheaper than can be expected a little later in the spring, and make the house more comfortable as well as look more presentable and attractive. He also says that his plant will get out the materials for portable garages and summer homes, cabins and cottages that will permit tenants and lessees to erect their own small buildings and take them down again without waste and put them up again wherever they wish.

While his wish is made clear that while his company is well prepared to take care of all the carload and truck loads, they were also ever ready to serve the small repair man or home owner, who needed some small lots of lumber, nails, roofing, cement, sand, gravel, cement, galvanized material, wire fencing, glass, fence posts, building papers, screen wire, one or more window sash or doors of standard or special designs and paints of all colors.

MRS. SAMUEL INMAN'S BROTHER-IN-LAW DIES

James McKee, prominent insurance man of Raleigh, N. C., and brother-in-law of Mrs. Samuel Inman, of Atlanta, died Sunday at his home. Funeral services will be held there this afternoon. He also was the brother-in-law of Mrs. Susan McKee, member of a prominent Raleigh family. He is survived by his wife, the former Miss Margaret Lettwith McKee, of Raleigh, and two children, James Jr. and Miss Frances McKee, also of Raleigh.

40TH ANNIVERSARY BEGUN BY R. F. KNOX

Master Sheet Metal Man Has Many Inventions to Credit.

R. F. Knox, the master sheet metal man, enters his 40th year in the sheet metal business today. During that period he has installed or directed the placing of hundreds of sheet metal jobs in Atlanta, Ga., and adjoining states.

Mr. Knox's first real big work began when he, as foreman and expert workman, did the sheet metal work on the buildings that housed the exhibits at the Cotton States Exposition, held at Piedmont park in 1895. The sheet metal work and metal ornamentation played a big part in making those fair buildings an attractive looking as they were. Mr. Knox made for himself a reputation then that has been greatly added to in the many years that he has been continually adding new ideas until now he is looked upon as a national leader in his craft.

Mr. Knox has probably brought out more work than any other man in the sheet metal business, and any other man of his craft in this part of the country. His second story or more garages for apartment houses and restaurants is at present used quite extensively through the country, as are also his trash burners and backyard incinerators. His metal boats are floating on many waters, his rat and small animal traps have been the most effective ever old-time trappers have ever seen.

Roll Ventilator. The Knox ridge roll ventilator, for the ventilation of large factories, laundries, garages, battery charging, bakeries, coffee roasting, paint shops, foundries and warehouses is conceded by architects and builders to be one of the best devices ever put on a building to change and draw the hot or foul air out of a superheated or bad smelling building. This ridge roll ventilator is so skillfully designed and made that with the slightest draft of outside air, the draft created starts a fan revolving in the ventilator and like a ballbearing machine, once it starts even as little moving air as the human breath keeps it going.

Mr. Knox recently brought out a new roller sifter and where sold and tried, it is saving about one-fifth the fuel cost for its new owners. As they do not cost much, will pay for themselves in a few weeks in the large office buildings or industrial plants.

One of Mr. Knox's best inventions, while simple in design and construction, is the Knox flashing back. This device is a piece of heavy galvanized metal or copper, about seven inches wide and in all lengths from two to ten feet long. It is first bent with a small lip of about one inch upward, then four inches, or the width of a brick, it is bent downwards. In the four-inch width there are numerous indentations about a quarter of an inch deep which in addition to setting the metal acts as a good bond to hold mortar.

Knox Flashing Lock. This Knox flashing lock is used anywhere that any other kind of a wall joins a brick wall, and is the most effective flashing ever devised to prevent leaks where two roofs join around chimneys. Instead of the hard man trying to chisel the roof set mortar to insert his metal or paper flashing, all the while working in an uncomfortable and dangerous position, the brick layer simply grabs up the short or ten-foot long four-inch-wide rigid piece of metal, puts it on his course of brick, where the plans call for it, imbeds the downward indentations in mortar on his course of brick, then another thin coat of mortar put upon the top of the flashing lock and his next course of brick is put on top.

The whole operation does not take him two minutes and he is more than compensated for this time in not having a positive straight and level wall to start over from there upwards. But, even if it does take two minutes to put on a ten-foot strip of Knox flashing lock no roof leaks or water leaks can be caused by it.

Mr. Knox says that a blowing rain will not get in behind his work and cause bad leaks.

Uruguayan Banking Business Wrested From Britain by U. S.

Uruguay Announces That Sinking Funds on Country's External Debts Will Be Suspended.

BY DR. MAX WINKLER.

(Continued from Page 10) The United States and North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc. NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Uruguay's New Year's gift to her foreign creditors is an announcement that sinking fund payments on the country's external debt will be suspended. A similar report was current several months ago but was denied by the government as well as the bankers identified with the origination and distribution of Uruguayan loans in the American market.

Incidentally, New York has apparently been fortunate in wresting the business from London, which has been the traditional market for Uruguayan loans. American investors have successfully displaced their cousins across the Atlantic. It is, of course, possible that the British market for Uruguayan loans was somewhat dampened by earlier experiences, the southern republic having occasionally ignored the rights and privileges of her European lenders.

For reasons still to be explained, American bankers managed to present to their clients the leading market of Uruguay in a decidedly more favorable light than was warranted with the result that she became the spoils of the American investing public.

Uruguay has been a borrower in foreign markets for well over two generations. During this period she has defaulted twice with respect to interest and sinking funds, and once with respect to sinking funds only. She was also guilty of a number of minor offenses. On the whole, a rather satisfactory record, especially when compared with her neighboring republics.

The country's first contract with American investors occurred in 1905, an event which, strange though it may seem, coincided with Uruguay's third default on her contractual obligations. The result was the suspension of sinking fund payments. Could this have been the reason for Uruguay's appeal to American interests for accommodation in keeping up the sinking fund payments with heavily depreciated currency?

The latest move on the part of the republic is the result of conferences which are said to have lasted several days, and in the course of which it was agreed that the most potent of keeping up the sinking fund payments with heavily depreciated currency.

It was also pointed out that experience has shown that Uruguay's promptness in fulfilling obligations had produced no benefits, had not upheld her credit, or assured that commercial markets, while her bonds were quoted at no better prices than those of defaulting republics.

The nation felt keenly disappointed when it saw its 6 per cent obligations appraised by the American investor at 20 cents on the dollar, in spite of the fact that the country had stated most emphatically that it would do its utmost to adhere to the provisions of loan contracts.

America's stake in Uruguay approximates $110,000,000, a sum sufficiently large to justify concern over the republic's treatment of creditors. Prior to the war, United States investments in the southern republic barely exceeded $5,000,000. The spectacular increase has been accompanied by a rather impressive gain in Uruguayan-American trade. From a total of $9,629,000 in 1913, Uruguay's commerce with the United States rose in 1930 to $33,786,100, an advance of almost 250 per cent.

It is of interest to call attention to the fact that Uruguay's foreign commerce during the same period increased from less than $125,000,000 to about $101,000,000, a gain of only 24.41 per cent. Imports alone showed an increase of more than 44 per cent, while imports from the United States increased well over 210 per cent.

Total exports advanced from nearly $72,000,000 in 1913, to more than $86,000,000 in 1930; while sales to the United States advanced during the same period from $2,902,000 to $12,353,700—a gain of over 315 per cent.

An interesting point in the country's trade with the United States is the adverse balance of trade with the latter, which would seem to indicate that London might perhaps have been a more logical place for Uruguay to seek financial accommodations. In any event, the impressive growth in America's trade with her southern neighbor and the profits resulting from such trade, are doubtless attributable to the influx of American funds into Uruguay.

Of America's total investments in the republic, $12,000,000 represent government and municipal obligations. The latter are in complete default, while government bonds are, at least for the time being, expected to continue to meet only interest payments. About $28,000,000 of American capital is invested in various Uruguayan industrial enterprises, including, among others, the Montevideo Telephone Company acquired from the British in 1921, the Uruguay Portland Cement Company, the Swift Company of Montevideo, and the Wilson International Company.

As we enter the year 1932 there is one thing that we are certain of and that is that we cannot have 1930 and 1931 with their crash in value over again. We may or may not have to come to the turn, but we are certainly down right close to bedrock and resiliency is likely to make itself felt for quickly on further drives.

For instance, how much can buyers lose on 30-inch 68-72 print cloths at 3-5-8c or 38 1/2-inch 64-60s at 2-3-8c or 27-inch 48-48 1/2 yard at 3-7-8c? How many times in the last 50 years have the goods sold below these prices? They ought to look like pretty safe purchases, ought they not?

We saw some figures on exports of cotton cloth from Japan that interested us the other day. For the month of September exports were approximately 130,100,000 square yards and 1,109,600,000 for the first nine months of 1931. This made the September figures about 5 per cent better than the average for the nine months. Of the September exports 38,100,000 yards went to British India, 21,700,000 yards to the Dutch East Indies, 19,100,000 yards to China, 10,300,000 yards to Hongkong and 6,500,000 yards to the Straits Settlements. These figures account for approximately 35,000,000 out of the 130,100,000 square yards of exports as showing how much larger exports to India and even to the Dutch East Indies were than to China.

Figures prepared by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York show that department store sales in this district in November fell 10.5 per cent below those of November, 1930, while stocks at the end of the month were approximately 14.2 per cent smaller than the previous year. The decline in sales of cotton goods was 15.8 per cent, slightly greater than the general decline. The mercantile reviews emphasized a part of the picture, that at the start of the year. This condition, they said, encourages hope for early resumption of activity. Distress sales or the dumping of merchandise, reports declared, was considerably lower than usual during the holiday period.

The shippers' regional advisory board reported that it looks for no part of the week ending December 31 declared to be 1931, 733 cars. For the first quarter of the new year, this board estimated loadings at 1,241,735 cars, a decrease of 370,415 from the same period of 1931, or 6.6 per cent less.

The three arrested gave their names as S. B. Lynch and Horace Wheeler, of the Shelton, and H. C. Saye, of 310 Peachtree street.

The arrests were made by Deputy Sheriff S. G. Davies and Patrolmen J. H. Preston, S. C. Tuck and William Holland, who reported that they took Lynch and Wheeler into custody at the hotel, where they found Wheeler at a telephone and Lynch in possession of a small quantity of whiskey. Saye was arrested on Somerset terrace. They reported that he also had a quantity of liquor.

The three are held in the tower on charges of violating the prohibition law.

Evening. The place of meeting will be the Auburn avenue branch of the Carnegie library, which has placed its facilities freely at the service of the group.

To lead the discussions the committee promoting the movement has obtained Mrs. Franklin H. Clapp, wife of the president of Gammon Theological Seminary.

NATIONAL CITY BANK DEFENDS GOLD BASIS

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP)—A plea for the maintenance of the gold standard is made by the National City bank in its monthly review, issued today.

"If all countries should leave the gold standard and use paper currencies having no fixed relations to each other," states the Review, "international trade would be in a state of chaos and domestic trade would be in almost as great confusion. In truth, the situation would be intolerable."

"Most of the persons who seem readily disposed to try the experiment of cutting loose from the gold standard for a little flyer in inflation apparently have no conception of the confusion and disaster which might result. They know the terrible experience of Europe with inflation after the war, but doubt that anything like that could happen to the United States."

Citing the rather violent fluctuations of the British pound sterling following abandonment of the gold standard, the Review points out:

"The effects of such fluctuations in the value of a country's money can not be other than harmful. It is true that a depreciating currency makes for rising prices, but if a currency depreciates constantly it becomes worthless, and if it constantly fluctuates up and down it makes all business a gamble."

"All countries want the price level raised, but common sense dictates that a higher price level would be a poor swap for chaos in monetary systems and therefore in all business. Inflation is never a way out; it is only a way in."

COTTON GOODS SALES INCREASE IN MONTH

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—Our sales last week were not important. For the month they were 5 per cent ahead of December, 1930, in yardage, with the fourth quarter of 1931 about 6 per cent better in yardage than the fourth quarter of 1930.

Our total sales in yardage for the year ended 1931, which was the highest year by almost 1 per cent, but, needless to say, the dollar value of these sales falls far below previous years.

As we enter the year 1932 there is one thing that we are certain of and that is that we cannot have 1930 and 1931 with their crash in value over again. We may or may not have to come to the turn, but we are certainly down right close to bedrock and resiliency is likely to make itself felt for quickly on further drives.

Speculative Interest AT LOW EBB ON CURB

NEW YORK, Jan. 3.—(AP)—The curb market begins the new year with speculative interest at a low ebb. Trading in recent sessions has been of a routine character, governed by year-end influences and an indisposition to make fresh commitments pending some disclosure as to what trade and industry were likely to do early in 1932.

Transactions in the first two or three sessions of last week included a fairly large volume of related selling. On Thursday, despite last minute tax-selling for cash, the market firmed and there was a sprinkling of mark-ups, just before the close. However, prices worked lower in the two hours of activity on Saturday when many traders were absent on an extended holiday.

Although recognizing that a vast amount of liquidation has been accomplished in the last two years, especially during 1931, brokerage house circles are unwilling to venture definite predictions on the immediate future. So many optimistic forecasts have gone wrong since the autumn of 1929 that the prophets have been silenced.

The reversionary for American Commonwealth Power Corporation was an unfavorable development over the New Year's holiday and the stock, which had previously been selling at a nominal quotation, eased still further. Oil shares are offering better resistance, due, apparently, to a better tone to the price structure. Speculators continue to move with the general market, while utilities, still the most active group, are subject to intermittent selling.

Key's Class Elects Witherspoon Dodge Assistant Teacher

A unanimous vote of those attending the James L. Key Bible class at the Capitol theater Sunday morning made Dr. Witherspoon Dodge assistant teacher of the organization. He will teach the class in the absence of Mayor Key.

Dr. Dodge taught the class Sunday, using for his lesson the first 18 verses of the Gospel of St. John. In the course of the talk he referred to the disclosures of God and connected them with the harmony and happiness of people.

Concerning the move to set aside a special day for the wide prayer, Dr. Dodge said the idea was excellent, but that "people should spend more time praying that God shall reveal to us what He would have us do."

Dr. Dodge was introduced by Mayor Key as a man who has the ability to "think and the courage to follow his convictions."

Dr. Dodge was nominated as assistant teacher by J. S. Brydges Jr. While Dr. Dodge was teaching the class this morning, Captain Jack Malcom, of the Atlanta police force, talked for him on the WGST Church of the Air program at 10 o'clock.

TARZAN THE TERRIBLE No. 91

Tarzan swung one war club at the onrushing warrior. As the fellow dodged it, the ape-man rushed in and seized him, at the same time casting his second club at another of his opponents. The foe with whom he grappled reached instantly for his knife, but Tarzan grasped his wrist. There was a sudden twist, an agonized scream, and then the warrior was lifted bodily from his feet, and held as a shield between his fellows and the fugitive, as the latter backed slowly through the gateway.

Beside Tarzan stood the single torch that lighted the entrance to the palace grounds. The warriors were advancing to aid their companion when the ape-man raised his captive high above his head, and flung him at his attackers. The charging warriors fell sprawling. Tarzan seized the torch, and threw it back into the palace grounds where it fell extinguished. In the ensuing darkness the ape-man disappeared in the streets of Taur beyond the palace gates, and finally the sounds of pursuit died away in the distance.

Two miles from the city he entered a forest, and here at last he felt safe. He squared his broad shoulders, and filled his lungs with the air as now he took to the trees. All night he traveled from sheer love of the wild freedom that had been denied him so long. At dawn he came to a little stream, and descended to the ground to wade across. Upon the opposite shore he stopped as though turned from flesh to marble. Only his dilating nostrils bespoke his pulsing vitality.

For a moment he stood; then swiftly as if under a new urge, he sped forward again. He came at last to the foot of a great tree and stopped, looking up at a roughly constructed shelter. A choking sensation came into his savage throat as he raised himself gently into the branches. Upon a branch below the tree house he paused listening. From within, his nostrils caught the same delicate aroma that had arrested his attention a mile back, and then a cry came from his lips.

Here Are the Correct PROVERB ANSWERS
